Worried Over Mother-In-Law.

To an Evening World reporter Evelyn Nesbit Thaw to day made an absolute denial of the story that she had been not impaired their cause. It is evident that Thaw is greatly perturbed overboard and gone clear to the bottom of the point of suing Harry Thaw for them.

He is in deadly fear that his mother than usual when she arrived at the Tombs to see her imprisoned husband.

Twish you would contradict as being absolutely impossible untrue, absurd the report that I have ever contemplating.

The Meshit Holman, mother of Mrs. Evelyn Thaw, to Stanford White, have overboard and gone clear to the bettom of the ocean he would have bounced back to the surface with his hands full of $1,000 bills and a gold watch in each pocket. Mr. Dolpher wan every pool to induce her to make a sworm statement for the District-Attorney, and it is probable that one of Mr. Jerome's staff will go to Pittsburg to see Evelyn Thaw's mother. She cannot be compelled to come to New York and testify but if she is ever caught within the jurisdiction of the State she can be compelled to go to court.

Were unanimous in the opinion that if A. Dolpher, of Philadelphia, had fallen overboard and gone clear to the bettom of the ocean he would have bounced back to the surface with his hands full of $1,000 bills and a gold watch in each pocket. Mr. Dolpher wan every pool on the voyage.

None of his chances cost him more than $5, and on no oceasion did he win less than $500. The pool one day amounted to nearly $500. His winning for the trip was about $2,700 net, and he was indeed a chesty man as he walked down the gangplank after passing around princely tips.
